Whether you're a large contractor needing reliable sub-contractors, or a small contractor hoping to grow your business, it's critical that you use all the resources available to prepare for and participate in the public sector bidding process.

Learn more about opportunities with two of Southern California's major agencies:

- Los Angeles World Airports is planning for exponential growth, to manage increasing air traffic and visitors. Learn how opportunities continue to expand for local, small and minority contractors, thanks to the Airport's inclusive vision and leadership.
- LA Metro has over $100 Billion of infrastructure work planned over the next 40 years, and Metro's proactive stance offers opportunities for contractors throughout the County. Learn about their newly adopted Contractor Development and Bonding Program (CDBP) and the opportunities you may have to grow your business.

Merriweather & Williams has helped small, minority, women and disabled veteran-owned companies bid on over $875 million in public works construction, while providing over $14 million in contract savings to their sponsor-partners.

You'll have plenty of time to ask questions, to see if you've covered all the bases in your own Bonding and Insurance needs.
